These teachers were from secondary schools, normal schools, colleges and universities. The Conference took place at the University of Washington on Monday, May 17, 1920. Such topics as the training of commercial teachers, college entrance credits in commercial branches, the relation of vocational subjects to commercial training and to regional or local business demands were discussed. Wood Distillation Plant, U. S. Forest Service: This plant consists of a retort of one-half cord capacity per charge, gas tank, and refining apparatus. The purpose is to discover by-products which may become commercially profitable in this region. Medicinal Plant, U. S. Bureau of Plant Industry: Early in 1918 the U. S. Bureau of Plant Industry entered into co-operation with the College of Pharmacy for the maintenance of an extensive medicinal plant garden. A specialist in scientific drug plant cultivation was stationed at the college and work began on an extensive scale. Experiments are under way for carrying on the cultivation of plants of pharmaceutical importance. A study is being made to learn what medicinal plants can be cultivated in the Puget Sound region on a commercial scale. Pacific Northwest Research Station, U. S. Bureau of Education: In 1918 the U. S. Bureau of Education established its Pacific Northwest Research Station at the University of Washington, Seattle, with Professor Clifford Woody as director. The object of this station is...
